

Whats your wordpress story?

Everyone has a story about what they've done with Wordpress, what yours?

Mike has created a great community at the MWUG and back in February Siobhan posted on the website about public speaking, so why not share your story.

Speaking in public should be - and is - a fun experience. Your talk can be technical or non technical, just tell us what you enjoy about Wordpress and why. You don't need to be an expert, just a messenger.

Here are few questions you can use to help build your narrative.

- 1) Introduce yourself.
- 2) When did you first hear about wordpress?
- 3) What did you begin using Wordpress for?
- 4) Did wordpress get you into creating content, or were you doing that already?
- 5) What made you want to know more about wordpress?
- 6) A bit more about yourself. Hobbies and habits?
- 7) Since you started using it, have your goals changed?

8) Do you have any favourite plugins or themes?

9) What frustrations and triumphs have you experienced with your blog/website?

10) Where can we see your work?

Your talk doesn't need to be epic either, just long enough to tell your story.

Look forward to hearing your talk at a future meet up!
